

Louisville Evening Express.

OLD SERIES--VOL. XXV.

LOUISVILLE, WEDNESDAY EVENING, OCTOBER 27, 1869.

NEW SERIES--VOL. I, NO. 171.

THE CITY.

Jury Commissioners.

B. H. McGill, James Applegate and R. J. Ormsby were, in the City Court this morning, sworn as Jury Commissioners for the month of November.

Death of a Venerable Lady.

Mrs. Mary Hart, whose mother was Miss Callaway, who was captured by the Indians in the pioneer days of Kentucky, died in Fayette county recently, aged 86 years.

Bond Forfeited.

Philip Yenawine, who was released on bond last Monday, did not make his appearance this morning, and his bond was declared forfeited. Mr. Charles Hotopp, a cigar manufacturer, was on the bond. The amount of the bond was $300. Yenawine had been presented on a charge of grand larceny.

The Minstrels.

Weisiger Hall was full again last night, and the minstrels must have tried themselves as they never did before, for a more delighted audience has seldom, if ever, been within those walls. The troupe make their last appearance to-night, and it would be well for all who enjoy minstrelsy to go and go early.

Personal.

Hon. Geo. M. Adams, M. C. from the mountain district, is in the city. Major Adams has just returned from the plains, where he has been hunting the buffalo. The Major enjoyed the sport keenly, having killed three of the animals.

Drunk.

George Millen got outside of an immense quantity of bad whisky yesterday. About 5 o'clock last evening he laid down in the street, on the corner of Ninth and Main, for a nap. Officer Antle happened along, and being a kindly-disposed man, carried George to quarters not so exposed. He was fined $3 and required to give his bond in $100 for sixty days, in the City Court this morning. He now rests quietly at the Allred House.

Drunk and Disorderly.

Edward Sales was arrested by Officers Deniger and Siebold last night in the rural village of Marshallton. He was very boisterous, cursing everybody that passed along the street, and evidently believed that he owned that part of the city. He found out his mistake this morning when requested to pay a fine for occupying so much of the city property. He now has exclusive control of a "cell" and a "bowler's pile" at the workhouse.

Important Trial.

The case of John Cox, for killing Rob't Lay, which has been undergoing trial before Judge Thomas, in the Bourbon Circuit Court, on an order of change of venue from Scott county, excited great interest and caused the Paris court-house to be crowded. Captains Cantrell and J. L. Jones appeared for the prosecution and Humphrey Marshall and John C. Breckinridge for the defense. The case was submitted Friday, but no agreement, and the jury was discharged Saturday.

A Noisy Vagabond.

Charles Hosmer was before Judge Craig on the charge of disorderly conduct this morning. He is drunk nearly all the time, and constantly uses abusive and disgusting language to the other tenants that reside in the same house with himself. Hosmer couldn't be kept still in court this morning, and his loud talking and threatening gestures toward the different witnesses made the court-room a perfect hell-ham for the time being. Not being able to pay a fine of three dollars and give bond of three hundred dollars for two months, he now "blows his hazzoo" to the large, if not intelligent audience, at the workhouse.

Stealing a Watch and Clothes.

Hugh McCord was presented in the City Court this morning on the charge of stealing a watch and some clothing from his brother, Henry McCord. From the evidence in the case, it is not certain that Hugh was guilty of it, as he had been in the habit of wearing his brother's clothes. He had, however, pawned the watch for five dollars, and the vest and pants for a dollar and a quarter, thus disposing of what did not belong to him. The case was somewhat mixed, and, for further development, was sent to the grand jury, and McCord held in $300 bond to answer. The pronunciation of one of the witnesses in this case was "a puzzler" to the Court.

A Noisy Offender.

Bridget Riley gets drunk once every three months, and the drunk generally ends when the three months are also ended. She was on one of these sprees yesterday, and threatened to demolish the saloon of one Dugan. She threw rocks through the windows, and when Dugan remonstrated, she elevated her "pedal extremities" into very close proximity to his nasal organ. In fact, one of the aforesaid extremities touched Dugan's "prominent feature" and bent it "a little." Bridget had Dugan foul, he couldn't get out of her clutches; in vain did he offer "a bottle of benzine for a mule," with which he hoped to stand some chance on the "kicking question." Nary mule was to be found, but the police were, and officers Ryder and Cochran, not without much persuasion (forceable), succeeded in lugging Bridget away. She had a most grievous tale to unfold in court this morning, but she had been before the Judge so often before, that it was no she. She was put in harness for thirty days.

DESPERATE AFFAIRS AT MITCHELLVILLE, KY.

Four Men Shot—One of Them Mortally Wounded.

A correspondent writes that a spree and shooting affray occurred at Mitchellville station, on the Louisville and Nashville Railroad, Saturday last. It seems that Hiram Smart and a man named Ben Pierson had a difficulty, in which the former drew his pistol and fired at the latter, but missing his aim, Pierson drew his revolver and shot Smart in the leg. The parties then closed and a fight ensued, in which was badly beaten over the head with a pistol. After this transaction Smart and a friend of his named James Kanatzer went off together, but Kanatzer returned in a short time to the scene of the difficulty, when a man named Gram Taylor spoke to him, saying, "How do Jim?" Kanatzer told Taylor to go away, he did not want to talk to him, whereupon a quarrel arose, and pistols were simultaneously drawn and shooting commenced. Kanatzer was shot in the foot, and Taylor received a ball in the hip. During the mêlée Moses Groves, a very estimable young man, got mixed up in the difficulty and was shot by Kanatzer, the ball penetrating the bowels, inflicting a very dangerous and perhaps mortal wound. Kanatzer fled to Franklin, Ky., at which point he was overtaken and placed in jail. Groves was in a very critical condition on Sunday, but the other wounded men were able to take drinks.

THE FORGER EXPOSED.

Letter from Rev. E. W. Bottomy.

HAWESVILLE, KY., October 25, 1869.
To the Editor of the Evening Express:
Sir:—My attention has just been called to an article in your issue of October 23d containing a letter over my name to his Honor, Mayor Bunce, soliciting from him a pass to Nashville for Mr. C. Hinton. I feel it due myself to say that the letter is a forgery. If I ever saw the said Hinton I do not know it. The letter is dated Oct. 20th, and comes from me as pastor of the Twelfth-street Methodist church, when the truth is, my pastoral connection with that church had expired some weeks before, and I was at that time in Hawesville operating in the field of labor as signed by me in my Conference at its late session in Owensboro.

Respectfully, your ob't serv't,
E. W. BOTTOMY.

LOUISVILLE CITY COURT.

HON. E. S. CRAIG, JUDGE.
WEDNESDAY, October 27.

Wm Sturgill, drunkenness and disorderly conduct; fined $3.

Michael Murphy, drunkenness and disorderly conduct; dismissed.

Geo. Mullon, got on a bender and was picked up. He was fined $3 and $100 for sixty days.

Geo. Stockell and Louis Stockenhouse, drunkenness and disorderly conduct; confessed and fined $3.

Frank Wadel, a superannuated specimen of humanity, was up for being drunk and disorderly; fined $3 and held in $100 bond for sixty days.

Charles Hosmer, a lively old coon, as he expressed himself a gay old s— of a b— Such terms were too vile for the court to listen to, and Charles was fined $3 and bond in $300 to keep the peace two months.

Bridget Reilly had consumed any amount of "sheet lightning," and wanted to strike everything she came in contact with. She found a couple of "good conductors," who brought her safely to the station-house. She was fined $3 and held in $100 bond for 30 days.

Edward Sales, drunk and disorderly conduct; was rip-roaringly drunk. He was requested to contribute $3 and $100 for thirty days for his fare. Edward preferred going to the work-house. Up to this time he had always looked upon what persons said in regard to this being an imitation of this "as a practical joke," but at this time we have no doubt that he finds it is "no sell" that he occupies a cell there.

Philip Yenawine, stealing about seventy-five dollars from McDonald; Yenawine not making his appearance, his bond of three hundred dollars was declared forfeited.

B. F. Barrett, stealing a horse from some unknown party, discharged.

Hugh McCord, stealing a watch and some clothes from Henry McCord; bond in $300 required to appear before the Grand Jury.

Jas. Keigle, stealing beer worth over four dollars from Kahn & Eberle; continued until to-morrow, and bond in $200 required.

TOWN TOPICS.

The Great Auction of Real Estate

Which took place last Monday was a grand success. The sale lasted about two hours, and the total receipts amounted to $33,397.50. As there is yet considerable ground remaining unsold, which the owners are determined to close out, no matter what it may bring, the sale will be resumed Friday, October 29th, at 3 o'clock p.m. Eligible building sites on Second, Third, Kentucky and Sixth streets, and three hundred feet on Park Place, will be sold. No bidding will be permitted. The sale will begin on the corner of Sixth and Kentucky streets.

MORRIS, SOUTHWICK & CO., Auct's.

Billiards—Billiards.

Brunswick's Billiard Hall will open this evening at 6 o'clock, Jefferson street, between Third and Fourth.

Buyers of Real Estate

Will please bear in mind that the big sale of real estate which took place last Monday, will be resumed on next Friday, October 29th, at three o'clock, when a large number of lots, for residences, equally as good and as well situated as those already disposed of, and located on Sixth, Kentucky, Second and Third streets and Park Place, will be sold. The owners are fully determined to close out everything they have, no matter what it may bring. Morris, Southwick & Co. are the auctioneers.

St. Louis Air Line Railroad.

The Corydon Democrat intimates that since the tax election the people of Harrison county are beginning to manifest a little more anxiety on the subject of the railroad than they have done hitherto, and fear that they will lose the benefits which that thoroughfare would confer upon them. It suggests that immediate steps be taken to get up individual subscriptions, and that a vote be taken upon the question of assessing township tax in the central townships, through which the road, if the Corydon route is adopted, will run. The Democrat very justly argues that the very great demand which the mere building of the road will make for all sorts of produce will much more than pay the proposed tax.

Big Sandy Railroad.

The County Court of Clark county, on Monday last, agreed by a decided majority to submit the question of a subscription of three hundred thousand dollars to the Big Sandy, Lexington and Elizabethtown railroad, to the voters of Clark, on the 4th of December.

A wheel, unlike a horse, runs the better for being tired.

DESPERATE AFFAIRS AT MITCHELLVILLE, KY.

Four Men Shot—One of Them Mortally Wounded.

A correspondent writes that a spree and shooting affray occurred at Mitchellville station, on the Louisville and Nashville Railroad, Saturday last. It seems that Hiram Smart and a man named Ben Pierson had a difficulty, in which the former drew his pistol and fired at the latter, but missing his aim, Pierson drew his revolver and shot Smart in the leg. The parties then closed and a fight ensued, in which was badly beaten over the head with a pistol. After this transaction Smart and a friend of his named James Kanatzer went off together, but Kanatzer returned in a short time to the scene of the difficulty, when a man named Gram Taylor spoke to him, saying, "How do Jim?" Kanatzer told Taylor to go away, he did not want to talk to him, whereupon a quarrel arose, and pistols were simultaneously drawn and shooting commenced. Kanatzer was shot in the foot, and Taylor received a ball in the hip. During the mêlée Moses Groves, a very estimable young man, got mixed up in the difficulty and was shot by Kanatzer, the ball penetrating the bowels, inflicting a very dangerous and perhaps mortal wound. Kanatzer fled to Franklin, Ky., at which point he was overtaken and placed in jail. Groves was in a very critical condition on Sunday, but the other wounded men were able to take drinks.

THE FORGER EXPOSED.

Letter from Rev. E. W. Bottomy.

HAWESVILLE, KY., October 25, 1869.
To the Editor of the Evening Express:
Sir:—My attention has just been called to an article in your issue of October 23d containing a letter over my name to his Honor, Mayor Bunce, soliciting from him a pass to Nashville for Mr. C. Hinton. I feel it due myself to say that the letter is a forgery. If I ever saw the said Hinton I do not know it. The letter is dated Oct. 20th, and comes from me as pastor of the Twelfth-street Methodist church, when the truth is, my pastoral connection with that church had expired some weeks before, and I was at that time in Hawesville operating in the field of labor as signed by me in my Conference at its late session in Owensboro.

Respectfully, your ob't serv't,
E. W. BOTTOMY.

DESPERATE AFFAIRS AT MITCHELLVILLE, KY.

Four Men Shot—One of Them Mortally Wounded.

A correspondent writes that a spree and shooting affray occurred at Mitchellville station, on the Louisville and Nashville Railroad, Saturday last. It seems that Hiram Smart and a man named Ben Pierson had a difficulty, in which the former drew his pistol and fired at the latter, but missing his aim, Pierson drew his revolver and shot Smart in the leg. The parties then closed and a fight ensued, in which was badly beaten over the head with a pistol. After this transaction Smart and a friend of his named James Kanatzer went off together, but Kanatzer returned in a short time to the scene of the difficulty, when a man named Gram Taylor spoke to him, saying, "How do Jim?" Kanatzer told Taylor to go away, he did not want to talk to him, whereupon a quarrel arose, and pistols were simultaneously drawn and shooting commenced. Kanatzer was shot in the foot, and Taylor received a ball in the hip. During the mêlée Moses Groves, a very estimable young man, got mixed up in the difficulty and was shot by Kanatzer, the ball penetrating the bowels, inflicting a very dangerous and perhaps mortal wound. Kanatzer fled to Franklin, Ky., at which point he was overtaken and placed in jail. Groves was in a very critical condition on Sunday, but the other wounded men were able to take drinks.

THE FORGER EXPOSED.

Letter from Rev. E. W. Bottomy.

HAWESVILLE, KY., October 25, 1869.
To the Editor of the Evening Express:
Sir:—My attention has just been called to an article in your issue of October 23d containing a letter over my name to his Honor, Mayor Bunce, soliciting from him a pass to Nashville for Mr. C. Hinton. I feel it due myself to say that the letter is a forgery. If I ever saw the said Hinton I do not know it. The letter is dated Oct. 20th, and comes from me as pastor of the Twelfth-street Methodist church, when the truth is, my pastoral connection with that church had expired some weeks before, and I was at that time in Hawesville operating in the field of labor as signed by me in my Conference at its late session in Owensboro.

Respectfully, your ob't serv't,
E. W. BOTTOMY.

DESPERATE AFFAIRS AT MITCHELLVILLE, KY.

Four Men Shot—One of Them Mortally Wounded.

A correspondent writes that a spree and shooting affray occurred at Mitchellville station, on the Louisville and Nashville Railroad, Saturday last. It seems that Hiram Smart and a man named Ben Pierson had a difficulty, in which the former drew his pistol and fired at the latter, but missing his aim, Pierson drew his revolver and shot Smart in the leg. The parties then closed and a fight ensued, in which was badly beaten over the head with a pistol. After this transaction Smart and a friend of his named James Kanatzer went off together, but Kanatzer returned in a short time to the scene of the difficulty, when a man named Gram Taylor spoke to him, saying, "How do Jim?" Kanatzer told Taylor to go away, he did not want to talk to him, whereupon a quarrel arose, and pistols were simultaneously drawn and shooting commenced. Kanatzer was shot in the foot, and Taylor received a ball in the hip. During the mêlée Moses Groves, a very estimable young man, got mixed up in the difficulty and was shot by Kanatzer, the ball penetrating the bowels, inflicting a very dangerous and perhaps mortal wound. Kanatzer fled to Franklin, Ky., at which point he was overtaken and placed in jail. Groves was in a very critical condition on Sunday, but the other wounded men were able to take drinks.

THE FORGER EXPOSED.

Letter from Rev. E. W. Bottomy.

HAWESVILLE, KY., October 25, 1869.
To the Editor of the Evening Express:
Sir:—My attention has just been called to an article in your issue of October 23d containing a letter over my name to his Honor, Mayor Bunce, soliciting from him a pass to Nashville for Mr. C. Hinton. I feel it due myself to say that the letter is a forgery. If I ever saw the said Hinton I do not know it. The letter is dated Oct. 20th, and comes from me as pastor of the Twelfth-street Methodist church, when the truth is, my pastoral connection with that church had expired some weeks before, and I was at that time in Hawesville operating in the field of labor as signed by me in my Conference at its late session in Owensboro.

Respectfully, your ob't serv't,
E. W. BOTTOMY.

DESPERATE AFFAIRS AT MITCHELLVILLE, KY.

Four Men Shot—One of Them Mortally Wounded.

A correspondent writes that a spree and shooting affray occurred at Mitchellville station, on the Louisville and Nashville Railroad, Saturday last. It seems that Hiram Smart and a man named Ben Pierson had a difficulty, in which the former drew his pistol and fired at the latter, but missing his aim, Pierson drew his revolver and shot Smart in the leg. The parties then closed and a fight ensued, in which was badly beaten over the head with a pistol. After this transaction Smart and a friend of his named James Kanatzer went off together, but Kanatzer returned in a short time to the scene of the difficulty, when a man named Gram Taylor spoke to him, saying, "How do Jim?" Kanatzer told Taylor to go away, he did not want to talk to him, whereupon a quarrel arose, and pistols were simultaneously drawn and shooting commenced. Kanatzer was shot in the foot, and Taylor received a ball in the hip. During the mêlée Moses Groves, a very estimable young man, got mixed up in the difficulty and was shot by Kanatzer, the ball penetrating the bowels, inflicting a very dangerous and perhaps mortal wound. Kanatzer fled to Franklin, Ky., at which point he was overtaken and placed in jail. Groves was in a very critical condition on Sunday, but the other wounded men were able to take drinks.

THE FORGER EXPOSED.

Letter from Rev. E. W. Bottomy.

HAWESVILLE, KY., October 25, 1869.
To the Editor of the Evening Express:
Sir:—My attention has just been called to an article in your issue of October 23d containing a letter over my name to his Honor, Mayor Bunce, soliciting from him a pass to Nashville for Mr. C. Hinton. I feel it due myself to say that the letter

DAILY EXPRESS.

PUBLISHED BY THE EXPRESS PRINTING COMPANY.
—OFFICE—
No. 112 JEFFERSON STREET.

TERMS.

One copy, one year, by mail.....	$8.00
One copy, six months, by mail.....	4.50
One copy, three months, by mail.....	2.50
One copy, one month, by mail.....	1.25
25 th PAYABLE ALWAYS IN ADVANCE.	75

Delivered in the city, 15 cents per week, payable to the carrier. To News Agents, 2 cents per copy.

LOUISVILLE.

—WEDNESDAY, OCTOBER 27, 1869.

Evansville, Henderson and Nashville Railroad.

During the late rebellion the tearing up of railroad tracks was a thing of every day occurrence. It was something that was expected when the enemy could thus lengthen the distance between himself and his foe. And it was not unexpected when ever a raiding party, to whom a road could be of no particular service, and might be decidedly harmful, came in contact with the rails.

But since the war closed we have heard but little of tearing up railroad tracks, unless it was done to replace old iron and old ties with new to make a better road. We have heard of late, however, of something of a tearing up of rails on the State line between Kentucky and Tennessee. Our contemporaries of the Nashville press speak of this tearing up in high dudgeon, and a stranger not conversant with the facts might infer that something terrible had been done.

From what we have learned of this affair, the facts are about as follows: Some two years ago the Evansville, Henderson and Nashville Railroad made a contract with the Edgfield and Kentucky Railroad for joint running arrangements. The cars of each of these companies were to run upon the other's road, and the contract was so made that Governor of Tennessee could at any time abrogate it. The roads ran under this contract until about the middle of this month, when the Governor, as he was empowered, occ and the agreement at an end.

The contract thus ended, each road claimed its own property, and the Evansville, Henderson and Nashville road declined to permit the Edgfield and Kentucky road to run upon its track until another satisfactory agreement could be made. The Edgfield and Kentucky road did not seem to think this new agreement necessary, but was inclined to run on the track of the Evansville, Henderson and Nashville road, whether the owners of the latter were willing or not. To put a stop to this, General Boyle, President of the Evansville, Henderson and Nashville road, ordered the connecting rails at the State line to be torn up; and thus ended the passing of the locomotives from one road to the other.

Such are the facts as we understand them; and it is understood that the Kentucky road will not enter into a new contract for running arrangements on joint account with the Tennessee road until the latter puts itself under competent management, which is not inimical to the Kentucky road. President Boyle takes the grounds that if the Tennessee road can't put itself under competent and safe management that is friendly to the Kentucky road, as a guarantee that no harm will be done to life or property, he will have no running arrangements with the concern. And if the Tennessee road don't come up to these provisos, we don't see how it can expect to use the track of the Kentucky road. In this country we can't use another's property without some understanding, and, in this view of the matter, the tearing up of the connecting rails seems to be nothing out of the way.

This quarrel between these two roads, however, is to be regretted, because it is certainly to the interest of both to have joint running arrangements. The expense of both roads is lessened by the joint running and the business of both increased. The reports show that the Edgfield and Kentucky road made nearly $30,000 more last year while it was working under this joint arrangement than it did the year before the agreement was carried into effect. And there can be no doubt that joint running would be more and more advantageous as the Henderson road approaches completion and after it is finished.

We look upon this Evansville, Henderson and Nashville railroad as one of the most important in the State. It passes through the counties of Todd, Christian, Hopkins, Webster and Henderson in a direct line, while its borders lie the counties of Logan, Trigg, Muhlenberg, Caldwell, McLean, Union and Davies. Here are a dozen counties whose agricultural products may be gladly sought by any railroad. The tobacco, corn, wheat, &c., raised in these counties will naturally seek the Ohio river by this railroad, and when they reach that stream they will inevitably find their way to Louisville. And while these counties are sending their products to our city, our merchants will not fail to send them goods in return, and thus build up a trade for the mutual benefit of all.

But, aside from the rich and valuable agricultural products of these twelve counties, there lies within them a mineral wealth more important than the gold mines of California. The line of the Evansville, Henderson and Nashville road is through the richest coal field in this country. The quantity of coal in a single one of these counties is almost fabulous. It lies there, bed upon bed, as it is nowhere else to be found, in this or any other land. Other countries boast of a single stratum of workable coal, but here we have a dozen strata, all workable, and most of them from four to eight feet in thickness. There is coal enough in Hopkins county alone to supply the world for ages to come. And nature has not there hid it deep down in the bowels of the earth to be mined by shafts and tunnels and subterranean passages, but has laid it almost upon the earth's surface, ready to be shoveled into the cart. Coal of such good quality and in such abundance and so accessible is to be found nowhere else upon the face of the globe. It is emphatically the coal field of the universe.

Dr. Owen, in his geological survey of Kentucky, beginning at page 391 in volume 4th, enumerates no less than nine distinct strata of workable coal, which are severed by this railroad. The important ones range in thickness from four to six feet, and of one of them he speaks in the following words: "On the same creek, at Mr. Harrell's, it (the coal) is beautifully exposed eight feet thick."

Now only think of a stratum of coal eight feet in thickness, spread over a vast extent of country and that territory severed by a railroad leading so to important a river as the Ohio within less than one hundred miles! Such a coal-bed in such a situation is of more value than any gold mine that was ever opened in California or Australia. The millions of human beings it may warm and the mighty machinery it may drive in the ages which are to come, are perfectly bewildering. And when this railroad is completed, connecting as it does with the Louisville and Nashville railroad, Louisville cannot suffer as she has in years past for coal. It may cost us more to get the coal from this region than it does from Pennsylvania, but it will never cost us the fifty and sixty cents per bushel which we have more than once been compelled to pay for Pittsburg coal. Such a connection with this vast coal field will at least make us independent of the ice-laden Ohio river and the combinations of foreign miners, which now and then leave our poor at the mercy of inhospitable winters, and our manufacturers without the means of running their machinery.

The Cuban Expedition.

It will be seen by an article in our news columns that Corro Gordo Williams is reported to be the leader of the last Cuban expedition, having been appointed by Gen. Goicoura. That General seems to have always had a penchant for Kentucky filibusters since the first attempt was made, in 1850, to revolutionize Cuba. Col. Tom Hawkins, Jack Allen, Pickett, and a number of Kentuckians, were leaders in the several expeditions that left this country in 1850-51.

The New York World says this of Goicoura and his family: "Domino de Goicoura is a native-born Cuban and a deadly opponent of Spanish domination in the ever-faithful isle. His name is connected with every attempt at revolution in the island from the Lopez affair down to the present time. Gifted with wealth, he gave it to the cause of his country; blessed with children, he taught them his own heart-lessons. That the lessons were treasured may be seen by the fact that his son, Valentino, lying wounded on a deserted battle-field in the Eastern Department of the island, some months since, when surrounded by Spanish volunteers, who, raising their bayonets to dispatch him, asked who he was, replied, exulting in his death agony, 'Dogs! I am a Goicoura.' His body was afterwards discovered by some creoles, horribly mutilated. Such is Domino de Goicoura, and such are his children."

The Westminster (England) Review says that the ex-Queen of Spain has serious thoughts of retiring from the gayeties of Parisian life. The Gaulois states that her Majesty has bought a little property near Gonesse, in the department of the Seine-et-Oise, where Sister Patrocinio and a brother are to reside. The idea of a Queen buying property from a chifonier is certainly suggestive of the vanity of all things human.

It appears, says the New York Herald, that at a recent State dinner given by Secretary Fish the Mexican and Peruvian Ministers were not present, and because they were not invited. It further appears that they were not invited because they had neglected the courtesy of calling upon Mrs. Fish. Of itself this would be a trifling matter, but in connection with the fact that Mexico and Peru have both recognized the Cubans as possessing belligerent rights, while Mr. Fish is still waiting for something more to turn up, there may be a diplomatic meaning in this business of some importance.

Is alluding to the departure of Father Hyacinthe for America, Figaro says that he belongs to an unfrocked family. Father Hyacinthe himself was first a Sulpician, then a Dominican, and then a Carmelite; his brother commenced life as a Dominican, and laid aside his habit for a professorship at the Sorbonne; his sister, who was also a Carmelite, left her convent, and now resides on the Boulevard de Neuilly.

The Cleveland Plaindealer says that the Ohio Legislature was lost to the Democrats by their own laziness. They lost a member in Scioto county by twenty-three votes in Madison by seven votes, and in Jackson by thirty-five votes. Had these three counties been carried, the Democrats would have had a majority in the Lower House.

According to the Chicago Journal, some of the political births in that city are hardly less lucrative than those in New York. The county clerk receives a yearly income of not less than $34,500, while the salary and perquisites of the circuit clerk almost foot up to fully $65,000.

PERE HYACINTHE has fallen into the hands of Beecher, and is next to be embraced by the Boston preachers. Poor Hyacinthe.

GRANT lived in Galena, Washburne lived there, but then Joe Jefferson once lived there too. This may perhaps save Galena.

The story of the finding of the petrified body of a giant, near Syracuse, New York, is exploded by a letter, which shows the alleged petrification to be a statue, the work of a crazy Canadian, who died near Onondaga in 1868.

“What's that?” asked Mrs. Partington, looking up at the column of the Place Vendome, during her late visit to Paris.

“The Pillar of Napoleon,” she answered: “Well, I never did,” she exclaimed; “and that's a pillow—he was a great man to me, but it's more like a bolster. And it's made of iron, I do believe. Ah, Isaac, what is it to be great? How hard his head must have been on his ironical pillow!”

ALEXANDER DUMAS, fils, has a little son who has also been named Alexander. A Paris feuilletoniste calls him “Alexander Dumas, petit-fils,” and hopes that the grandson of the author of “Monte-Cristo,” will complete the trio of great authors of the Dumas family.

Paper cuffs—newspaper attacks.

CITY ITEMS.

Suites of Rooms

Are a favorite method of hotel life. The AMERICAN HOUSE, BOSTON, has a large number of such, which may be secured by post or telegraph, by families traveling.

For the Information

Or all such as may have been already informed as to the wonderful merits of Horr's MALT EXTRACT, we would state that it is an excellent strengthening beverage, a delightful tonic, and a pleasant remedy, and we confidently commend its use to all suffering from disorders of the throat, chest, lungs or stomach, as well as to those needing an invigorator, a tonic or a beverage, instead of porter, ale, beer or other alcoholic drinks.

SOLD BY ALL DRUGGISTS AND GROCERS.

Oct 27th 1869

Superior Photographs.

From life size down, painted and plain; portrait pictures, beautifully painted, all sizes. Baby pictures made quicker than a wink, at half the usual price. Find

J. C. ELROD'S Old Gallery,

Oct 25th 1869

No. 13 Main street.

House Furnishing Goods.

The largest stock of house furnishing goods, and the cheapest place in the city, is at Pyne & Creighton's, No. 82 Fourth street, between Main and Market. Persons going to house keeping should bear this in mind.

See 25th 1869

Warwick's PHIS.

A certain cure for Neuralgia. Sold by all druggists at 50 cents per box. PETER, POWERS & COOPER, wholesale agents, No. 22 West Main street, near Floyd, Louisville, Ky., Oct 26th 1869

Walker's Tonic Bitters

Advertise themselves. All that the people want to know is that they can be bought from all druggists and dealers generally.

They “go for them,” come for them, send for them, run for them, write for them, telegraph for them, and—take them, satisfied they are the best tonic in the world.

J. F. GRIGG & Sons' Clothing House.

Corner Market and First streets. Established thirty years. See advertisement in another column.

Oct 27th 1869

Copier-Plate Printing and Engraving.

WEDDING and VISITING CARDS, MONOGRAMS &c., engraved to order. INITIAL STAMPING FREE. Visiting Cards printed from plate. A large assortment of the best French and American note paper always on hand at

FRANK MAIDEN'S

Jefferson street, bet. Third and Fourth, 1869-70

See 25th 1869

Words of Chear.

On the Errors of Youth and the Follies of Age, in relation to MARRIAGE and SOCIAL EVILS, with a helpling hand for the ering and curing of the young. Sent in sealed letter envelopes, less postage. Address HOWARD ASSOCIATION, Box P, Philadelphia, Pa.

See 25th 1869

Notice.

The members of the Protestant Episcopal Church who are able to aid in singing are requested to meet at Grace Church this evening, at 7:30 o'clock, to practice the music for the laying of the cornerstone of the Orphanage of the Good Shepherd. The music will be under the direction of Harry Peters, Esq., organist of Christ Church.

See 25th 1869

U. S. Hotel,

LOUISVILLE, KY.

BURTON & STOCKTON, Proprietors

This Hotel is being Refitted and Furnished.

Oct 27th 1869

WM. STEILBERG & CO.,

FURNITURE DEALERS,

NO. 83 FIFTH STREET,

BET. MAIN AND MARKET, LOUISVILLE.

We are daily receiving a large and elaborate material, such as

Bed-room, Parlor, Dining-room and Office Furniture,

Interior to none in the market. s. if for the agreement was carried into effect.

And there can be no doubt that joint running would be more and more advantageous as the Henderson road approaches completion and after it is finished.

We look upon this Evansville, Henderson and Nashville railroad as one of the most important in the State. It passes through the counties of Todd, Christian, Hopkins, Webster and Henderson in a direct line, while its borders lie the counties of Logan, Trigg, Muhlenberg, Caldwell, McLean, Union and Davies. Here are a dozen counties whose agricultural products may be gladly sought by any railroad. The tobacco, corn, wheat, &c., raised in these counties will naturally seek the Ohio river by this railroad, and when they reach that stream they will inevitably find their way to Louisville. And while these counties are sending their products to our city, our merchants will not fail to send them goods in return, and thus build up a trade for the mutual benefit of all.

But, aside from the rich and valuable agricultural products of these twelve counties, there lies within them a mineral wealth more important than the gold mines of California. The line of the Evansville, Henderson and Nashville road is through the richest coal field in this country. The quantity of coal in a single one of these counties is almost fabulous. It lies there, bed upon bed, as it is nowhere else to be found, in this or any other land. Other countries boast of a single stratum of workable coal, but here we have a dozen strata, all workable, and most of them from four to eight feet in thickness. There is coal enough in Hopkins county alone to supply the world for ages to come. And nature has not there hid it deep down in the bowels of the earth to be mined by shafts and tunnels and subterranean passages, but has laid it almost upon the earth's surface, ready to be shoveled into the cart. Coal of such good quality and in such abundance and so accessible is to be found nowhere else upon the face of the globe. It is emphatically the coal field of the universe.

Dr. Owen, in his geological survey of Kentucky, beginning at page 391 in volume 4th, enumerates no less than nine distinct strata of workable coal, which are severed by this railroad. The important ones range in thickness from four to six feet, and of one of them he speaks in the following words: “On the same creek, at Mr. Harrell's, it (the coal) is beautifully exposed eight feet thick.”

“What's that?” asked Mrs. Partington, looking up at the column of the Place Vendome, during her late visit to Paris.

“The Pillar of Napoleon,” she answered: “Well, I never did,” she exclaimed; “and that's a pillow—he was a great man to me, but it's more like a bolster. And it's made of iron, I do believe. Ah, Isaac, what is it to be great? How hard his head must have been on his ironical pillow!”

The Pillar of Napoleon, by J. M. Moore & Son, is a new Coarse of Lectures, as delivered at the New York Museum of Anatomy, embracing the subjects: How to Live and What to Live for. The author, M. A. Mantoux, has been Reviewed: The Cause of Indigestion; Flatulence and Nervous Disease accounted for; Marriage, Allergies, &c., &c. Oct 27th 1869

25th PAYABLE ALWAYS IN ADVANCE.

Delivered in the city, 15 cents per week, payable to the carrier. To News Agents, 2 cents per copy.

See 25th 1869

To Shoe Dealers!

DAILY EXPRESS.

LOUISVILLE.

WEDNESDAY, OCTOBER 27, 1869.

LAST NIGHT'S DISPATCHES.

WASHINGTON.

Two Important Resignations.

General Butterfield and Marshal Barlow can't withstand the pressure.

Decision in the Yerger Case in December.

Outrages Upon Americans in Paraguay.

The Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers.

IMPORTANT RESIGNATIONS.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 26.—The President, this morning, just before he left town, received two important resignations of New York office-holders. Gen. Butterfield as Assistant Treasurer and Gen. Barlow as Assistant Marshal. The first was not unexpected as the name of the successor of Butterfield was discussed preparatory to the latter's suspension from office, but the second created some surprise, as it was not expected, though it was readily accepted. For some time past prominent Republicans have been complaining to the Administration that Gen. Barlow did not sympathize enough with the Republican party to furnish any active support in the way of patronage in office for the success of the party; and further, that some of his subordinates were Democrats. Gen. Barlow replied to these charges that he managed his office in the interest of the public service, and had for a lot of politicians. The pressure, however, was too great, and Barlow, rather than submit to political interference, came on board yesterday, and to-day resigned and returned to New York.

THE YERGER CASE.

The Attorney General and the counsel for Yerger had a conference and agreed upon a time when they shall have the petition of habeas corpus. It is not likely that a decision will be reached on that part of the case before December, as no argument will come before Friday of next week, and decision three weeks thereafter would only result in the ordinary course of proceedings.

GENERAL MCMAHON.

late Minister to Paraguay, arrived here to-day, in obedience to a summons, to give his views on the charges in the case of Lopez, that he had committed outrages on American citizens. There are being investigated by the State Department and by a Congressional committee, and are based on the evidence of ex-Minister Washburn, & Co. McMahan will testify that most of the allegations are untrue for as his knowledge goes.

LOCOMOTIVE ENGINEERS.

The members of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers of the United States and Canada, who have been attending the annual meeting of the association in Baltimore for several days past, arrived here this morning for the purpose of paying their respects to President Grant, he having appointed the hour of ten o'clock this morning to receive them. About one hundred and twenty delegates were present from nearly every railroad in the country and Canada. They were headed by Charles Wilson, Esq., Grand Chief Engineer of the Brotherhood. Upon arriving at the Executive Mans on the delegates were ushered into the East room, in a few minutes the President appeared, when he was addressed by Mr. Wilson as follows:

ADDRESS OF PRESIDENT WILSON.

MR. PRESIDENT: You see before you representatives from the railroad interests of both of the countries, and in an organization known as the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers. Almost every State in the Union is represented by its members, and their organizations, their interests, and their reputation, are as varied as men engaged in other pursuits, but I assure you that they are as true and as patriotic as any association in the country. We have come to you, the Executive, to the nation, to the nation on earth. We have not come to invoke the blessing of any law, as we do not desire to be in any way dependent on any law, but to you, in behalf of my associates, I tender you our grateful thanks for the honor shown to us, and I trust that the organization will continue to you for the same.

REPLY OF PRESIDENT GRANT.

The President responded as follows:

MR. PRESIDENT: I am very glad to meet you as the representative of the branches of the industry, and of course, I am very glad to see you in its development, and in other countries. Without the aid of railroad, the interior of so vast a country as we have could be made of but very little use. You have done well, gentlemen, for your country.

ATTORNEY GENERAL.

The following appointments of surgeons for the Pension Bureau have just been made: Joseph A. Stillwell, Brownsville, Ind.; Lewis J. Jones, Hillsboro, Ky.; L. T. Purcell, Glasgow, Ky.; D. H. Olin, Macon, Iowa; J. G. Jones, Brandenburg, Ky.

COUNTELL: THREE-DOLLAR STAMPS.

have been forwarded to the Internal Revenue Bureau from California. The were intended for bills of lading and other commercial documents.

FATHER DIAZINUS.

The Catholics here have taken a decided stand against Hyacinthe, in the sermon of a most prominent priest, on Sunday, just published, he alludes to Hyacinthe as a "poor unfortunate member of the Catholic Church, who, in a moment of temptation, published a scurrilous or indecent protest against those who had raised him on the obscenity in which he was born, to place him in one of the most execrable positions."

APPOINTMENT.

Mr. Wilson then introduced the delegates to the President, who took each one by the hand before they withdrew. Accompanying the delegates were a number of ladies, who were also introduced to the President.

THE CINCINNATI.

representative class of the branches of the industry, and of course, I am very glad to see you in its development, and in other countries. Without the aid of railroad, the interior of so vast a country as we have could be made of but very little use. You have done well, gentlemen, for your country.

THE TURF.

New York, Oct. 26.—Jerome Park races. Steeple chase, about two and a half miles. All run well, "easier" most of the time, and there was only a half length separation for the first three at the finish. Oysterman, I, Bottetell, 3, Lobelia, 4, Zigzag, 5. Time—39'1/2.

Jerome Park Races.

THE DOMINION.

Two pieces of snow—Parliamentary.

Toronto, Oct. 26.—About four inches of snow fell here this morning. At Walkerton, Port Elgin, and other points north and west about two feet of snow has fallen, and it is still snowing along the lines of the Great Western and Grand Trunk railways. The fall is very light and railway communication uninterrupted.

The Local Parliament of Quebec is convoked for the 18th of November and the Dominion Parliament for the 15th of February.

THE TURF.

New York, Oct. 26.—Jerome Park races. Steeple chase, about two and a half miles. All run well, "easier" most of the time, and there was only a half length separation for the first three at the finish. Oysterman, I, Bottetell, 3, Lobelia, 4, Zigzag, 5. Time—39'1/2.

Jerome Park Races.

THE DOMINION.

Two pieces of snow—Parliamentary.

Toronto, Oct. 26.—About four inches of snow fell here this morning. At Walkerton, Port Elgin, and other points north and west about two feet of snow has fallen, and it is still snowing along the lines of the Great Western and Grand Trunk railways. The fall is very light and railway communication uninterrupted.

The Local Parliament of Quebec is convoked for the 18th of November and the Dominion Parliament for the 15th of February.

THE TURF.

New York, Oct. 26.—Jerome Park races. Steeple chase, about two and a half miles. All run well, "easier" most of the time, and there was only a half length separation for the first three at the finish. Oysterman, I, Bottetell, 3, Lobelia, 4, Zigzag, 5. Time—39'1/2.

Jerome Park Races.

THE DOMINION.

Two pieces of snow—Parliamentary.

Toronto, Oct. 26.—About four inches of snow fell here this morning. At Walkerton, Port Elgin, and other points north and west about two feet of snow has fallen, and it is still snowing along the lines of the Great Western and Grand Trunk railways. The fall is very light and railway communication uninterrupted.

The Local Parliament of Quebec is convoked for the 18th of November and the Dominion Parliament for the 15th of February.

THE TURF.

New York, Oct. 26.—Jerome Park races. Steeple chase, about two and a half miles. All run well, "easier" most of the time, and there was only a half length separation for the first three at the finish. Oysterman, I, Bottetell, 3, Lobelia, 4, Zigzag, 5. Time—39'1/2.

Jerome Park Races.

THE DOMINION.

Two pieces of snow—Parliamentary.

Toronto, Oct. 26.—About four inches of snow fell here this morning. At Walkerton, Port Elgin, and other points north and west about two feet of snow has fallen, and it is still snowing along the lines of the Great Western and Grand Trunk railways. The fall is very light and railway communication uninterrupted.

The Local Parliament of Quebec is convoked for the 18th of November and the Dominion Parliament for the 15th of February.

THE TURF.

New York, Oct. 26.—Jerome Park races. Steeple chase, about two and a half miles. All run well, "easier" most of the time, and there was only a half length separation for the first three at the finish. Oysterman, I, Bottetell, 3, Lobelia, 4, Zigzag, 5. Time—39'1/2.

Jerome Park Races.

THE DOMINION.

Two pieces of snow—Parliamentary.

Toronto, Oct. 26.—About four inches of snow fell here this morning. At Walkerton, Port Elgin, and other points north and west about two feet of snow has fallen, and it is still snowing along the lines of the Great Western and Grand Trunk railways. The fall is very light and railway communication uninterrupted.

The Local Parliament of Quebec is convoked for the 18th of November and the Dominion Parliament for the 15th of February.

THE TURF.

New York, Oct. 26.—Jerome Park races. Steeple chase, about two and a half miles. All run well, "easier" most of the time, and there was only a half length separation for the first three at the finish. Oysterman, I, Bottetell, 3, Lobelia, 4, Zigzag, 5. Time—39'1/2.

Jerome Park Races.

THE DOMINION.

Two pieces of snow—Parliamentary.

Toronto, Oct. 26.—About four inches of snow fell here this morning. At Walkerton, Port Elgin, and other points north and west about two feet of snow has fallen, and it is still snowing along the lines of the Great Western and Grand Trunk railways. The fall is very light and railway communication uninterrupted.

The Local Parliament of Quebec is convoked for the 18th of November and the Dominion Parliament for the 15th of February.

THE TURF.

New York, Oct. 26.—Jerome Park races. Steeple chase, about two and a half miles. All run well, "easier" most of the time, and there was only a half length separation for the first three at the finish. Oysterman, I, Bottetell, 3, Lobelia, 4, Zigzag, 5. Time—39'1/2.

Jerome Park Races.

THE DOMINION.

Two pieces of snow—Parliamentary.

Toronto, Oct. 26.—About four inches of snow fell here this morning. At Walkerton, Port Elgin, and other points north and west about two feet of snow has fallen, and it is still snowing along the lines of the Great Western and Grand Trunk railways. The fall is very light and railway communication uninterrupted.

The Local Parliament of Quebec is convoked for the 18th of November and the Dominion Parliament for the 15th of February.

THE TURF.

New York, Oct. 26.—Jerome Park races. Steeple chase, about two and a half miles. All run well, "easier" most of the time, and there was only a half length separation for the first three at the finish. Oysterman, I, Bottetell, 3, Lobelia, 4, Zigzag, 5. Time—39'1/2.

Jerome Park Races.

THE DOMINION.

Two pieces of snow—Parliamentary.

Toronto, Oct. 26.—About four inches of snow fell here this morning. At Walkerton, Port Elgin, and other points north and west about two feet of snow has fallen, and it is still snowing along the lines of the Great Western and Grand Trunk railways. The fall is very light and railway communication uninterrupted.

The Local Parliament of Quebec is convoked for the 18th of November and the Dominion Parliament for the 15th of February.

THE TURF.

New York, Oct. 26.—Jerome Park races. Steeple chase, about two and a half miles. All run well, "easier" most of the time, and there was only a half length separation for the first three at the finish. Oysterman, I, Bottetell, 3, Lobelia, 4, Zigzag, 5. Time—39'1/2.

Jerome Park Races.

THE DOMINION.

Two pieces of snow—Parliamentary.

Toronto, Oct. 26.—About four inches of snow fell here this morning. At Walkerton, Port Elgin, and other points north and west about two feet of snow has fallen, and it is still snowing along the lines of the Great Western and Grand Trunk railways. The fall is very light and railway communication uninterrupted.

The Local Parliament of Quebec is convoked for the 18th of November and the Dominion Parliament for the 15th of February.

THE TURF.

New York, Oct. 26.—Jerome Park races. Steeple chase, about two and a half miles. All run well, "easier" most of the time, and there was only a half length separation for the first three at the finish. Oysterman, I, Bottetell, 3, Lobelia, 4, Zigzag, 5. Time—39'1/2.

Jerome Park Races.

THE DOMINION.

Two pieces of snow—Parliamentary.

Toronto, Oct. 26.—About four inches of snow fell here this morning. At Walkerton, Port Elgin, and other points north and west about two feet of snow has fallen, and it is still snowing along the lines of the Great Western and Grand Trunk railways. The fall is very light and railway communication uninterrupted.

The Local Parliament of Quebec is convoked for the 18th of November and the Dominion Parliament for the 15th of February.

THE TURF.

New York, Oct. 26.—Jerome Park races. Steeple chase, about two and a half miles. All run well, "easier" most of the time, and there was only a half length separation for the first three at the finish. Oysterman, I, Bottetell, 3, Lobelia, 4, Zigzag, 5. Time—39'1/2.

Jerome Park Races.

THE DOMINION.

Two pieces of snow—Parliamentary.

Toronto, Oct. 26.—About four inches of snow fell here this morning. At Walkerton, Port Elgin, and other points north and west about two feet of snow has fallen, and it is still snowing along the lines of the Great Western and Grand Trunk railways. The fall is very light and railway communication uninterrupted.

The Local Parliament of Quebec is convoked for the 18th of November and the Dominion Parliament for the 15th of February.

THE TURF.

New York, Oct. 26.—Jerome Park races. Steeple chase, about two and a half miles. All run well, "easier" most of the time, and there was only a half length separation for the first three at the finish. Oysterman, I, Bottetell, 3, Lobelia, 4, Zigzag, 5. Time—39'1/2.

Jerome Park Races.

THE DOMINION.

Two pieces of snow—Parliamentary.

Toronto, Oct. 26.—About four inches of snow fell here this morning. At Walkerton, Port Elgin, and other points north and west about two feet of snow has fallen, and it is still snowing along the lines of the Great Western and Grand Trunk railways. The fall is very light and railway communication uninterrupted.

The Local Parliament of Quebec is convoked for the 18th of November and the Dominion Parliament for the 15th of February.

THE TURF.

New York, Oct. 26.—Jerome Park races. Steeple chase, about two and a half miles. All run well, "easier" most of the time, and there was only a half length separation for the first three at the finish. Oysterman, I, Bottetell, 3, Lobelia, 4, Zigzag, 5. Time—39'1/2.

Jerome Park Races.

THE DOMINION.

DAILY EXPRESS.

ADVERTISING RATES

THE LOUISVILLE EXPRESS.

1st insertion	50
Next five insertions, each	50
One week	100
One month	150
Two months	250
Three months	350

Line solid agate, or their equivalent in space.

Advertisements on first and third pages 25¢ per cent. additional.

Advertisements inserted at intervals 33¢ per cent. additional.

Advertisements to occupy fixed places, 50¢ per cent. additional.

Double column advertisements, 25¢ per cent. additional.

Advertisement columns must be paid for in advance.

Transient Amusements, 10 per square for each insertion.

"Wants" 10¢ per line; "For Sales," etc., 25 cents per each insertion of five lines.

"Wanted," 20 cents per line; "Locals," 10 cents per line; "Topics," 20 cents per line; "Deaths," 15 cents per line; "Black letter," 20 cents per line; "4th v. 18th" 10 cents per line.

Marriage and Death Notices, 50 cents each.

All bills due on first insertion, 50 cents each.

Advertisers to pay for establishing business houses, with whom we have running accounts, must pay in advance.

LOUISVILLE.

WEDNESDAY, OCTOBER 27, 1869.

TELEGRAPHIC NEWS.

NEW YORK.

The End of the Erie Railroad Strike.

Proceedings of the Social Science Association.

Interesting Paper from Hon. H. L. Dawes.

Accident on the Erie Railroad.

Release of a Swindling Paymaster.

A Fool-hardy Adventure.

A. T. Stewart Asked to Recommend a Man for Sub-Treasurer.

The Story of the Rothschild Loan Revived.

The Gold Market Very Dull Again.

Great Desire to Control Shares in Pacific Mail.

General Grant's Broken Non-Commital.

NEW YORK, October 27.

At a meeting of the striking machinists last evening in Jersey City, a written agreement was read from Jay Gould agreeing to pay the men on the Erie road on the twelfth of each month. This settles the question, and the strike is ended, all hands going to work to-day.

At the Social Science Association yesterday, a paper was read written by H. L. Dawes, representing from Massachusetts, on the mode of procedure in cases of contested elections. Mr. Dawes in the paper, after giving a detailed history of the mode of procedure in this country, concluded by saying that an amendment to the constitution was necessary to bring about a radical reform, but some improvement may be had by changing the manner of appointing the committees, and such a public sentiment as would put an end to party exactions. This public sentiment was necessary, as members now content themselves with simply recording their names and leaving the discussion of a case to the parties directly interested, thus making an engine of political parties working out their ends and involving the institutions of the country in their purposes and fate.

At 3:45 p.m. yesterday, six cars of the passenger train on the Erie railroad, on its way from New York to Buffalo, ran off the track two miles east of Susquehanna. The whole train is a complete wreck. It is reported that none of the passengers were injured, but the news reaches us so late an hour that it is impossible to ascertain whether this statement is true. The cause of the accident was a broken rail.

The conference of the New York and Hudson River Unitarians takes place to-day. The opening exercises were held last evening, Rev. Dr. Bellows, and Rev. Mr. Hopeworth, of New York, assisting. The latter preached the sermon, which was an out-spoken discourse, considering the errors of Romanism and the failure of Protestantism, and confidently predicting a much greater success for the Unitarian denomination than has hitherto attended it.

Mr. George Stone, of the firm of Stone, Nichols & Stone, says Gen. Grant nor any of his family ever transacted any gold or other brokerage business through that firm.

Paymaster Bogert, who has been tried by a naval court-martial on charges of swindling the government of the sum of $20,000, has been released from custody, which amounts to an acquittal.

The Congressional Committee on Foreign Affairs met yesterday, and examined Capt. Franklin, of the South Atlantic Squadron. The witness gave a detailed account of transactions connected with the release of Bliss and Masterman from the Paraguayan Government and their transfer to the American squadron.

The iron-plate ship Constitution will leave this port to-day for Londonderry with seven souls aboard, five men and two New Foundland dogs. The Constitution is 23 feet in length and 8 tons burden, custom-house measurement.

Special to the Cincinnati Commercial.

NEW YORK, October 26.

It seems true that General Grant has sent a special message to A. T. Stewart, asking him to recommend a man for Gen. Butterfield's successor. General Butterfield will hold on until his successor is appointed.

A report, which has been current for some time in Wall-street, of an offer having been made by the Rothschild's to Sec. Secretary Boutwell to purchase a four per cent. thirty-year loan of the United States, at par, has greatly excited, by many persons, a foundation in truth.

On the 10th of October, at Hopkinsville, Warren county, Ohio, on Friday evening, a lock-jaw, brought on by a slight wound on the elbow, received accidentally from a pitchfork while threshing wheat same afternoon. A day or two before, near the same village, a young man, named Price was killed by a blow of a limb falling on his head from the top of a dead tree.

The Synod at Cincinnati (Old School) has just celebrated at Hamilton its fourth-tenniversary and adjourned yesterday.

The Methodist Episcopal Church has fifty-eight Sabbath schools, one thousand one hundred teachers and nine thousand pupils in Hamilton county, according to a recent report.

A reporter called on Geo. E. Stone, of the firm of Stone, Nichols & Stone, brokers, No. 50 Wall street. It will be remembered that they are the brokers through whom it is alleged the President bought government bonds on a margin of four per cent., because a "ball" in Wall street, and sold out to Jay Gould at a handsome profit.

Mr. Stone said that he had read the statement that the firm had bought and sold stocks for General Grant, but he did not wish to deny it. He did not wish to say anything about the matter unless called upon to do so by the proper authority. The affair was none of his. He had never done anything himself of which he was ashamed.

If there was scandal afloat concerning the President, which might be set at rest by his denying it that was true, he did not propose to make any such denial. He understood the position in which this placed the President.

Special to the Cincinnati Gazette.

NEW YORK, October 26.

Government officials are endeavoring to force lottery dealers to pay the internal revenue tax, which, if collected, would augment the receipts by a quarter of a million dollars annually. The only lotteries that pay the tax here according to law are those of Missouri and Kentucky. Their agents offer to assist officials in collecting taxes from others, and several prosecutions will be commenced immediately.

A counterfeit of the new twenty-five cent note was discovered to-day. It is poorly executed, and it is thought very few have been circulated.

WILMINGTON.

Trial of the Officers of the Cuba.

WILMINGTON, N. C., Oct. 26.—The case of the officers of the Cuba was resumed before the commissioner to-day. Mr. Davis, for the defense, wanted to introduce some of the officers as witnesses. Mr. Phelps, for the Government, objected. After some discussion the Commissioner decided that the officers were competent as witnesses. After the examination of two witnesses, by which nothing of importance was elicited, the court adjourned until to-morrow.

From the Memphis Appeal we learn

that Capt. J. G. McCullough, of New Orleans, is soon to take upon himself the responsibilities of a husband. Capt. J. O. Rawlins, brother of the late Secretary of War, the President of the First National Bank of Nevada states that the creditors and stockholders of the concern will not lose one dollar by the failure of the bank.

From the Memphis Appeal we learn

that Capt. J. G. McCullough, of New Orleans, is soon to take upon himself the responsibilities of a husband. Capt. J. O. Rawlins, brother of the late Secretary of War, the President of the First National Bank of Nevada states that the creditors and stockholders of the concern will not lose one dollar by the failure of the bank.

From the Memphis Appeal we learn

that Capt. J. G. McCullough, of New Orleans, is soon to take upon himself the responsibilities of a husband. Capt. J. O. Rawlins, brother of the late Secretary of War, the President of the First National Bank of Nevada states that the creditors and stockholders of the concern will not lose one dollar by the failure of the bank.

From the Memphis Appeal we learn

that Capt. J. G. McCullough, of New Orleans, is soon to take upon himself the responsibilities of a husband. Capt. J. O. Rawlins, brother of the late Secretary of War, the President of the First National Bank of Nevada states that the creditors and stockholders of the concern will not lose one dollar by the failure of the bank.

From the Memphis Appeal we learn

that Capt. J. G. McCullough, of New Orleans, is soon to take upon himself the responsibilities of a husband. Capt. J. O. Rawlins, brother of the late Secretary of War, the President of the First National Bank of Nevada states that the creditors and stockholders of the concern will not lose one dollar by the failure of the bank.

From the Memphis Appeal we learn

that Capt. J. G. McCullough, of New Orleans, is soon to take upon himself the responsibilities of a husband. Capt. J. O. Rawlins, brother of the late Secretary of War, the President of the First National Bank of Nevada states that the creditors and stockholders of the concern will not lose one dollar by the failure of the bank.

From the Memphis Appeal we learn

that Capt. J. G. McCullough, of New Orleans, is soon to take upon himself the responsibilities of a husband. Capt. J. O. Rawlins, brother of the late Secretary of War, the President of the First National Bank of Nevada states that the creditors and stockholders of the concern will not lose one dollar by the failure of the bank.

From the Memphis Appeal we learn

that Capt. J. G. McCullough, of New Orleans, is soon to take upon himself the responsibilities of a husband. Capt. J. O. Rawlins, brother of the late Secretary of War, the President of the First National Bank of Nevada states that the creditors and stockholders of the concern will not lose one dollar by the failure of the bank.

From the Memphis Appeal we learn

that Capt. J. G. McCullough, of New Orleans, is soon to take upon himself the responsibilities of a husband. Capt. J. O. Rawlins, brother of the late Secretary of War, the President of the First National Bank of Nevada states that the creditors and stockholders of the concern will not lose one dollar by the failure of the bank.

From the Memphis Appeal we learn

that Capt. J. G. McCullough, of New Orleans, is soon to take upon himself the responsibilities of a husband. Capt. J. O. Rawlins, brother of the late Secretary of War, the President of the First National Bank of Nevada states that the creditors and stockholders of the concern will not lose one dollar by the failure of the bank.

From the Memphis Appeal we learn

that Capt. J. G. McCullough, of New Orleans, is soon to take upon himself the responsibilities of a husband. Capt. J. O. Rawlins, brother of the late Secretary of War, the President of the First National Bank of Nevada states that the creditors and stockholders of the concern will not lose one dollar by the failure of the bank.

From the Memphis Appeal we learn

that Capt. J. G. McCullough, of New Orleans, is soon to take upon himself the responsibilities of a husband. Capt. J. O. Rawlins, brother of the late Secretary of War, the President of the First National Bank of Nevada states that the creditors and stockholders of the concern will not lose one dollar by the failure of the bank.

From the Memphis Appeal we learn

that Capt. J. G. McCullough, of New Orleans, is soon to take upon himself the responsibilities of a husband. Capt. J. O. Rawlins, brother of the late Secretary of War, the President of the First National Bank of Nevada states that the creditors and stockholders of the concern will not lose one dollar by the failure of the bank.

From the Memphis Appeal we learn

that Capt. J. G. McCullough, of New Orleans, is soon to take upon himself the responsibilities of a husband. Capt. J. O. Rawlins, brother of the late Secretary of War, the President of the First National Bank of Nevada states that the creditors and stockholders of the concern will not lose one dollar by the failure of the bank.

From the Memphis Appeal we learn

that Capt. J. G. McCullough, of New Orleans, is soon to take upon himself the responsibilities of a husband. Capt. J. O. Rawlins, brother of the late Secretary of War, the President of the First National Bank of Nevada states that the creditors and stockholders of the concern will not lose one dollar by the failure of the bank.

From the Memphis Appeal we learn

that Capt. J. G. McCullough, of New Orleans, is soon to take upon himself the responsibilities of a husband. Capt. J. O. Rawlins, brother of the late Secretary of War, the President of the First National Bank of Nevada states that the creditors and stockholders of the concern will not lose one dollar by the failure of the bank.

From the Memphis Appeal we learn

that Capt. J. G. McCullough, of New Orleans, is soon to take upon himself the responsibilities of a husband. Capt. J. O. Rawlins, brother of the late Secretary of War, the President of the First National Bank of Nevada states that the creditors and stockholders of the concern will not lose one dollar by the failure of the bank.

From the Memphis Appeal we learn

that Capt. J. G. McCullough, of New Orleans, is soon to take upon himself the responsibilities of a husband. Capt. J. O. Rawlins, brother of the late Secretary of War, the President of the First National Bank of Nevada states that the creditors and stockholders of the concern will not lose one dollar by the failure of the bank.

From the Memphis Appeal we learn

that Capt. J. G. McCullough, of New Orleans, is soon to take upon himself the responsibilities of a husband. Capt. J. O. Rawlins, brother of the late Secretary of War, the President of the First National Bank of Nevada states that the creditors and stockholders of the concern will not lose one dollar by the failure of the bank.

From the Memphis Appeal we learn

that Capt. J. G. McCullough, of New Orleans, is soon to take upon himself the responsibilities of a husband. Capt. J. O. Rawlins, brother of the late Secretary of War, the President of the First National Bank of Nevada states that the creditors and stockholders of the concern will not lose one dollar by the failure of the bank.

From the Memphis Appeal we learn

that Capt. J. G. McCullough, of New Orleans, is soon to take upon himself the responsibilities of a husband. Capt. J. O. Rawlins, brother of the late Secretary of War, the President of the First National Bank of Nevada states that the creditors and stockholders of the concern will not lose one dollar by the failure of the bank.

From the Memphis Appeal we learn

that Capt. J. G. McCullough, of New Orleans, is soon to take upon himself the responsibilities of a husband. Capt. J. O. Rawlins, brother of the late Secretary of War, the President of the First National Bank of Nevada states that the creditors and stockholders of the concern will not lose one dollar by the failure of the bank.

From the Memphis Appeal we learn

that Capt. J. G. McCullough, of New Orleans, is soon to take upon himself the responsibilities of a husband. Capt. J. O. Rawlins, brother of the late Secretary of War, the President of the First National Bank of Nevada states that the creditors and stockholders of the concern will not lose one dollar by the failure of the bank.

From the Memphis Appeal we learn

that Capt. J. G. McCullough, of New Orleans, is soon to take upon himself the responsibilities of a husband. Capt. J. O. Rawlins, brother of the late Secretary of War, the President of the First National Bank of Nevada states that the creditors and stockholders of the concern will not lose one dollar by the failure of the bank.

From the Memphis Appeal we learn

that Capt. J. G. McCullough, of New Orleans, is soon to take upon himself the responsibilities of a husband. Capt. J. O. Rawlins, brother of the late Secretary of War, the President of the First National Bank of Nevada states that the creditors and stockholders of the concern will not lose one dollar by the failure of the bank.

From the Memphis Appeal we learn

that Capt. J. G. McCullough, of New Orleans, is soon to take upon himself the responsibilities of a husband. Capt. J. O. Rawlins, brother of the late Secretary of War, the President of the First National Bank of Nevada states that the creditors and stockholders of the concern will not lose one dollar by the failure of the bank.

From the Memphis Appeal we learn

that Capt. J. G. McCullough, of New Orleans, is soon to take upon himself the responsibilities of a husband. Capt. J. O. Rawlins, brother of the late Secretary